

The (1-week) Makeover

Just give me one week and you'll fall in love with your home all over again!

Each room is unique, so it may take less than a week in order to complete the makeover. I'll work with what you have and embellish the room with warm and inviting details to achieve the look you want. Here's how it works:

The Consultation

During the consultation process, we'll explore how you want your home to feel and how well the space functions. We'll discuss your current color scheme, evaluate your furnishings and layout and determine what works and what doesn't.

The Day of the Makeover

Once you have prepped the space (a quick de-clutter), I take care of the rest. When the makeover process actually begins, we clear the room of all furniture, art and accessories. Then we begin to build the room back up one layer at a time, paying close attention to function and balance. I will then 'shop the home' to find any missing pieces to the puzzle. The room rearrangement typically takes several hours to one day, depending on the size of the room. I also make sure the room is organized before I leave and can be used before the final installation.

The Shopping Process

Once the furniture is in place, I'll pound the pavement to find just the right details for your home. Details really do make a difference. I typically shop for small tables, lamps, art, accessories and greenery to breathe new life into the room. I'm an expert at finding just the right pieces while keeping a watchful eye on your budget. I may want to come in and try a few things before I make my final selections, so it's important that I have access to the home before the final installation.

The Installation

I will return with all of my goodies and hang artwork and install all of the other design elements. I'll fluff and primp your newly re-made room until it sparkles and shines. Voila! A beautiful new room without the expense of buying new furnishings!

Costs

Once we have determined your needs, you'll receive a quote at the beginning of the project so there are no surprises. Full makeovers begin at $1500 and include furniture re-arrangement, shopping, and styling services. Design fees do not include product.

The (1-day) Makeover

You'd be surprised at what I can do in just one day!

Just like the 1-week makeover, the 1-day makeover starts with you. We'll discuss what is working and what's not. Once again, the room is cleared and then the room is built back up one layer at a time. With your permission, I'll 'shop the home' to find what I need to bring it all together. Once the room is finished, I will leave you with a few ideas on how to make improvements as your budget allows.

This services starts at $350 per room. You will receive a full quote before the process begins.
